

Saluting young leaders

2008 Forty Under 40

Nearly 850 people were on hand at the Rochester Riverside Convention Center on Tuesday to help recognize this year's class of Forty Under 40 honorees, who were chosen by a panel of judges consisting of past recipients of the award. The honorees, all under 40 years old, were selected for their outstanding contributions in both their work and the community. Now in its 14th year, the event was sponsored by the Simon Graduate School of Business.

At right, Rochester City Schools Superintendent Jean-Claude Brizard applauds the honorees.

Above, from left: Honorees Thomas Tette, Michael Baron, 2005 honoree Mark Armbruster, and honoree David Robertson.

At right above: Katelyn Dyer, a 2006 honoree and judge for this year's class, chats with Rochester Economic Development Department Commissioner Carlos Carballada; at right, from left: Bergmann Associates Inc. principal partner Thomas Mitchell, Rochester Business Journal president and publisher Susan Holliday, Monroe County Executive Maggie Brooks, honoree Andrew Raus and Mark Aesch, CEO of the Rochester-Genesee Regional Transportation Authority.